Jeff moved to Lafayette, Louisiana for his first job with Tenneco Oil Company. There he met his wife Kay Louise Comeaux. Shortly after their marriage they relocated to Atlanta, Georgia where he began his 30 year career with the Environmental Protection Agency. Following Jeff's cancer diagnosis he and Kay moved to Lake Oconee, in Eatonton, Georgia where they grew their love together.

Many of Jeff's life long friendships grew through adventures outdoors. He shared these passions with his family and made many memories capturing moments through pictures transformed into cherished videos. As his family can attest, Jeff loved to watch Michigan football, listen to music, track weather patterns, work on home projects, watch birds, and tumble rocks. Jeff also devoted his life to serving others as a Eucharistic Minister to the sick, and as a member of both the Knights of Columbus and the Cursillo community.

Jeff is survived by his wife Kay Crane; three children, Adrian (Sydney) Crane, Cameron (Madison) Crane, and Josie (Paul) Ver Steeg; his siblings Julie (Jeff) Quick and Steve Crane; several nieces and nephews; and his beloved dogs, Marley and Stella.
